Camp Staff: Co-directors Kelly (McDonald) Turner and Katie (McDonald) Staples have been actively involved with the sport of field hockey for the past twenty plus years, both as players and as coaches. Kelly coached the Kellam Varsity Field Hockey team for five years, and then passed the program on to her sister. As a member of three state championship-winning teams at Cox High School, she went on to James Madison University, winning a 1994 National Championship and a 1995 CAA Conference Championship. She has coached various college camps, clinics, and local teams. Katie Staples is entering her third year as the Knights Head Coach. She has led the Knights to extremely successful seasons, capturing the title of district tournament runner-up in her first year as head coach. Katie is also a Cox High School graduate, winning two state championships, and is a former University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill standout where she won both a National Championship and an ACC Conference Championship in 1997. Kerri Land is entering her third year as the Junior Varsity Field Hockey coach. She successfully has helped develop the Knights field hockey program as one of the most competitive throughout the district. Lyndsay Owen is a former Kellam player who was both a standout in high school and at Longwood University ('08) where she co-captained the team her senior year. Kelli Worst is a rising senior at Bridgewater College ('10) where she is the starting center back and co-captain. A number of current Kellam players will also be assisting.
